

I do not support this action. I feel that consumers like myself should have more than two broadband options. Local ISP's provide better service at a competitive rate. This action is just out and out greed; the big companies fighting to wrest the last 10% of the market from the local companies. This is shameful & deplorable.